

For each of the following examples complete the equation (based on the fact these are all single or double displacement reactions that WILL occur), then balance the equations.

